The influence of Arrand Parsons, the sponsor of the Freshman class of 1943-44, made possible this issue of "The Fox".

Mr. Parsons came to Pleasant Hill Academy in the year 1939. After teaching music one year, he took an extra responsibility of teaching Freshman civics.

Last year the Freshman class, under the leadership of Mr. Parsons, published a school paper, "The Fox". It gave an outlet for student news, cartoons, poems, and short stories.

At the end of the year, the class printed the School Annual, also entitled "The Fox".

In printing the Annual this year we wanted to give students and friends something by which to remember Pleasant Hill Academy in the school year 1943-44; and to continue the work which Mr. Parsons started and carried out with so much enthusiasm.

We look forward to Mr. Parsons' return in the fall with the most welcome Mrs. Parsons.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Let us tell you the story of our four years at Pleasant Hill Academy.

As Freshmen, there were forty of us. That was in September of 1940.

Mr. Obenhaus, Mr. Parsons, Mr. Williams, Mr. Tacy, Miss Walker, Miss Cummins, Miss Boyd, and Miss Van Horn helped to bring us through that first year. General was, you might say, our main subject. It covered a small portion of several things; thus the name. The year started with a tour of the campus with an explanation of all points of interest by Mr. Obenhaus. During the Freshman year we made excursions to the Crossville fair, to the Ravenscroft fair, (This last trip was part of the study of county government.) and to the Cumberland County Court House at Crossville. Seeing the condition of the Court House, we assembled all the help we could and cleaned it throughout. A sightseeing trip to Nashville to the state capitol completed the unit.

Part of the class time was given to the making of a map of the United States, one of Tennessee, and one of Cumberland County.

In English we started the year by learning the names of the members of the entire Freshman class, and how to spell them. We organized a club in each section of the class, "The Forum" and "The Good English Club." Our class work was centered around the studying of poems and short stories.

Our class in home economics pushed us a little farther along in three lines: cooking, ironing and sewing.

Algebra can't be forgotten nor can the teacher, Mr. Tacy. We will always remember him along with the algebra we learned and hope that when this war is over he can pay us a visit.

Mr. Simonton and the "Ag" boys contributed a great deal by plowing, making silage, milking, raising potatoes, and making hot-beds.

Our class picnic was at Riverside Camp, with Mr. and Mrs. Simonton and Miss Walker as our sponsors.

In biology as Sophomores we studied foods and their value, vitamins, calories and minerals in foods, the digestive system, sense organs, respiration, muscles, the skeleton, the nervous system and first aid.

We started English by studying the different kinds of sentences. The important thing in English was our Everready Club. In this club we studied parliamentary procedure, made and gave programs. We read stories and answered questions on them.

In Bible class the first topic was the Old Testament. The second topic was the New Testament, which included the study of the parables. We gave the Christmas Pageant.

In history our main study was based on a new, very good textbook called 'Across the Ages.' We outlined chapters and discussed them. We had a very nice class picnic at the bridge.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

September 1943 found us Juniors.

In economics we studied the "American Observer" every week and had discussions at times on world events. Some of the units we did were: "The Foundation of our Economic Order", "Consumption Production", "Money, Banking, Credit, and Industry", and "Economic Life in Tennessee."

In English we studied American literature. We did two plays, "Nathan Hale", acted in our class, and "Moonshine". The W.H.E.O. (We Help Each Other) Club was formed. In it we bought a fifty dollar war bond for the school as a Christmas present. Also in our club we gave the one act play, "Pearls", later repeated in chapel.

In geometry we worked on projects, the first of which was a study of the water system of the school. We gave a chapel program on the results of our study. Other projects included working on a tennis court, making back-boards for the basketball goals, boxes for the war relief, making geometric designs, making lamp shades for the boys' rooms, keeping health records, laying off softball court and starting a soccer court. Some of the students studied plane geometry from the text book. Some, also, made a simple multiplier.

In art the first thing we did was to help with an exhibition of Cumberland County crafts. Our next undertaking was a color study and room arrangement. Art class had charge of the decorations for Christmas and Thanksgiving. We gave a "V for Victory" banquet to the Seniors and ourselves.

We shared our boys with "Uncle Sam" until as Seniors we were only thirteen in number, twelve girls and one boy.

We have been able to accomplish many things in Science. We put new light fixtures and larger bulbs in the Ohio building. Part of the class made small, one-tube radio sets; others made cameras; still others made a barometer. The whole class made a study of five and gave a chapel program on it. Then we were given our choice of what we would do. Things chosen included: a study of astronomy, making lamps, overhauling the lawn-mower, studying stain-removal, house-wiring, fixing electrical equipment, and making a dark room.

In English we started the year with grammar. We then studied paragraph writing and original poetry, doing several of each on Autumn. We also read in our book, Prose and Poetry. In the Four Year English Club we studied vocabulary, made oral book reports, and gave three plays, "Beau of Bath", given the night of our Christmas Party; "Land of the Free", given in chapel; and "Stepmother", given in our club.

In History we started with a study of the United States government. The American Observer helped us keep in touch with world events. Our text book served as a backbone to all our studies in this course.

In home economics the class was divided. Part of us cooked and studied nutrition, while the others studied good grooming and sewing. Part of us made a trip to Knoxville to get material for our dresses and for curtains for our new 'home ec.' room. Our commencement dresses were also made in this class.

The Senior class enjoyed a party of our own making one Sunday night of every month. We also enjoyed filling the invitation to supper from Mr. and Mrs. Obenhaus. Our class picnic of the fall took place at Flat Rock.

Thanks to the present Juniors, we had a fine banquet at the close of the year.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

The Junior class of 1943-1944 has decreased somewhat from the Sophomore class of the year before. We now have nine girls and seven boys. Since there is only one Senior boy, our boys have had to take the lead. They have agriculture a year earlier than usual.

We have done many different and interesting things in our curriculum for the year. Art is one of our main subjects and has brought on many activities. Some of the projects have been interior decorating, which includes refinishing the boys' parlor, mechanical drawing, book binding, flower arrangement, printing, color study, and wood finishing. With the help of Edward Randolph an altar and two pulpits were made and finished for the Easter service. We have been ready for any emergency on the campus. For example, we made a sign for the new salesroom and have helped with scenery for plays and the operetta.

Another study is geometry. We have done a variety of things. We first took up surveying. We laid off the tennis courts and athletic field. We have made athletic equipment and a backstop for baseball. We made mite boxes for the tables. The rest of the course has been individual projects which include the making of lamps and lamp shades, sun dial, cameras, candlestick, repairing of electrical fixtures, study of astronomy and algebra. This work has been done in this manner so we can "learn by doing".

One of the most important subjects to everyone is English. This year we have taken up grammar, and short stories, poetry, essay, oration and drama. One of the important plays we studied and dramatized was "Nathan Hale." Our book reports are also included. Every other Saturday we have our Frost English Club. We got the name from the author, Robert Frost, because we liked his poems so well. Some of our programs were on holidays, spelling matches, stories, giving a play, and reviewing shrubs, a continuation of last years biology class. As a club we also bought a $25.00 war bond, which we presented to the school.

Our other subject is divided between the boys and girls. While the boys have agriculture, the girls have economics. In economics we have covered the foundations of economics, how our government raises and spends money, economic problems of the post-war world, and of course the American Observer, a paper we get weekly.

Every member of the Junior class was in the operetta except two. Several of us have also been privileged to go on folk dancing tours. This year we have also lost one boy, Dyer Grissom, into the armed forces. Our final contribution to this school year was the Junior-Senior banquet.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

Even though we have lost some important members the Sophomore class is twenty-seven strong. Our year began with new literature, Bible, and biology books which we are very proud to own. May the following classes treat them kindly.

As all other classes, we organized our English clubs, in which we have had much fun.

Some important events for us were the presenting of the fifty dollar war bond, and the buying of two lovely new trees for the campus.

Among the programs which we put on, the Christmas, Valentine, and program of Negro Poetry were best. Some of the poems were so nice that they were repeated on the Saturday night program.

We have had two plays, "The Poor House", and "Two Crooks and a Lady". The Poor House was also given on a Saturday night to the student body.

Grammar is far from being left out. It began with the parts of speech and ended with adjectives, adverbs, and noun clauses, with a series of handwriting lessons between.

In our literature books we have studied drama, poems, plays, and essays.

Biology has been a profitable year for us. This study includes field trips, dissection of fish, and frogs. We have worked on individual projects, and have added much to our room from them.

An outstanding day was when we saw Captain Rainey perform the autopsy on the cow which had died suddenly on the farm.

I'm sure the class will never forget Dr. Cushman (a foreign missionary) and her thrilling tales of Africa.

We have been watching closely the signs of spring.

We all feel much improved in Bible knowledge. In the beginning of the year we made maps of the Bible lands. Each person took a Book from the Old Testament and gave a report before the class.

We were proud to present the traditional Christmas pageant and a Christmas play, "The Christmas Guest", this year.

The Marriott's have generously entertained the Sophomores in their home.

In chapel we gave a program, "The March of Time". The charts we made were on display there for the student body to see. The program was repeated at the Farmers' Union meeting.

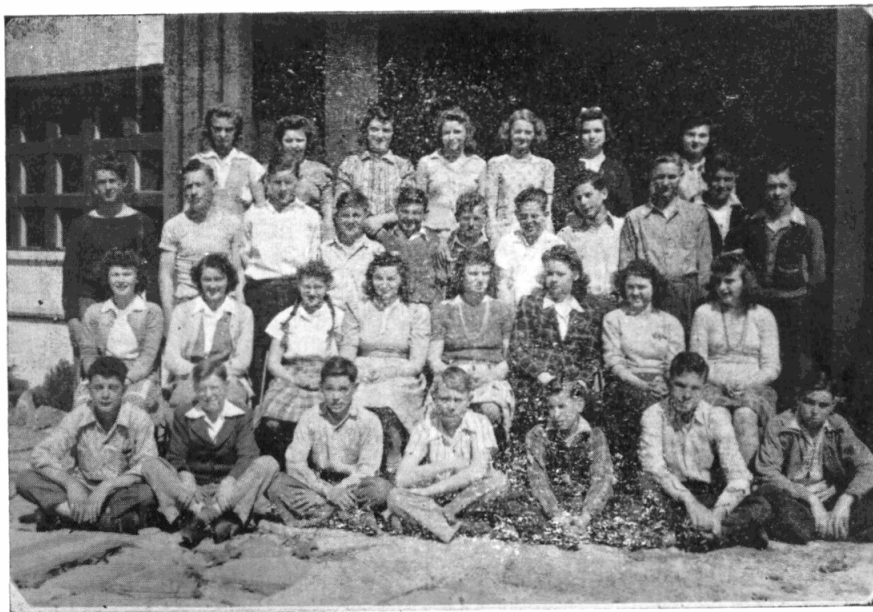

Last but not least, we made a complete study of the Book of Acts.

Discussion and outlining, we have successfully gone "Across the Ages" under Miss Petey's careful guidance.

By reading the newspaper and giving a report of the daily news, the class followed the event of our service men in the war theaters.

We received a weekly News Review which was studied and discussed.

The Story of Rome was studied very carefully; and we have acquainted ourselves historically with nine great men.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

At the close of our first school year, we Freshmen feel as if we had accomplished a great deal. Along with our hard studying and working we have always found time for fun. Even though we have had misfortunes and bad luck, we will still hold this year among our fondest memories.

We feel that the saddest event was the night of October 9th, when we went on our class picnics. Betty Ann Center had the misfortune to lose the sight in one eye when a branch swung back in her face.

We enjoyed singing games every Wednesday. We have learned a great many. Some of our favorites are "The Fireman's Dance," "Gustaf's Toast," and "The Hatter".

A pantomime was given Christmas and was enjoyed both by the Junior High and the Freshmen. We also gave a play in chapel on "How to Act When You Go to Tea".

The Class tournament came out with the Freshmen girls winning, after defeating the Junior girls and winning by one point at the end of a tough game with the Sophomores. Our boys were defeated by the Sophomores in their first game.

We also have accomplished a great deal in classes. We are really proud to mention the pamphlets about the Cumberland Plateau, that we have almost completed in civics; the way we have improved our rooms and furniture; and the other interesting projects we have carried out in math.; the things we have written and read in English; the ability to sew, cook, and launder, which the girls have gained in Home Economics; and the boys, the increased knowledge of how to tend and feed cattle and stock, to care for chickens and to be good farmers generally.

All in all we have enjoyed our Freshman year at Pleasant Hill Academy and are looking forward to coming back next year as Sophomores.

SPORTS

This year the students have participated in several outstanding sports. One of the highlights was basketball. Although we were not always victorious we showed good sportsmanship and always played a clean game

Due to lack of transportation we did not play as many games as in former years but each team averaged about eight games besides the games which the boys played with the State Guards and soldiers of the Prisoner of War Camp. Each game, played at home, was always well supported by our student body under the leadership of our cheer leaders, Jane Sapp and Marvin Thompson.

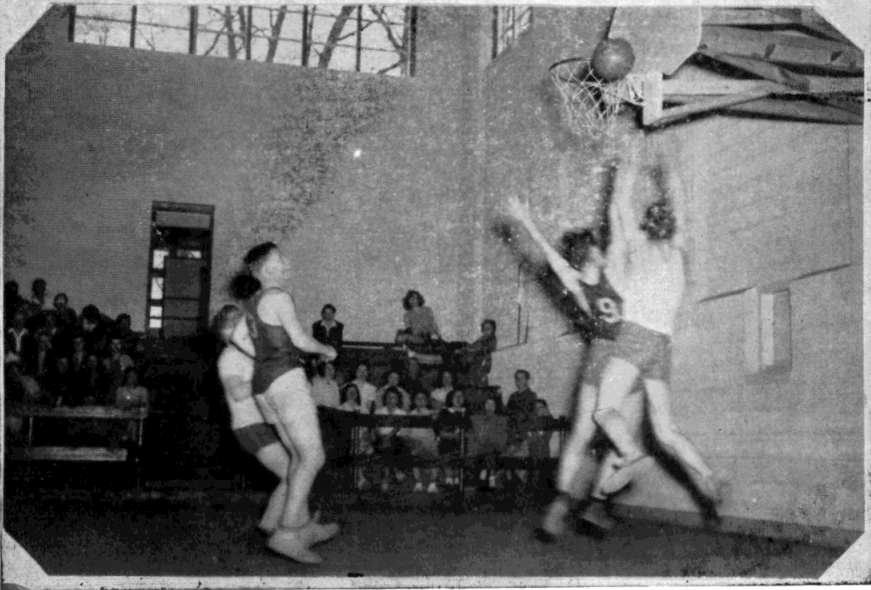

The girls line-up consisted of Elsie Jo Patton, Virginia Gooch, Betty Miller, Marie Moore, Mozelle Gooch, Cordia Mae McCormick, Jean Spears, Rose Tollett, Dora Stewart, Ruth Beaty, Dorothy Gossage. The boys line-up was Dyer Grissom, Melvin Poe, Red Bradley, Palmer Jeffers, Tommy Love, Peter Ayer, Floyd Wilson, Benson Collett, John Bosson, and Reece Barger.

Basketball season ended with Class tournaments. It started with a bang with Sophomore and Senior girls playing the first game. Finals were played off by Sophomore and Freshmen girls, and Junior and Sophomore boys.

Most of the students, boys and girls, have taken part in soft-ball and everyone has showed cooperation and sportsmanship in the tournaments which we have played on pretty Sunday afternoons.

Volley- ball, a new game to many of the students, was taken up with great enthusiasm. After a considerable period of practice the volley-ball tournaments were played.

Field Day stirred up quite a bit of excitement as there had to be try-outs for the various sports to be contested. Outstanding representatives from each class took part. Some of the sports were broad jump, high jump, relay race, soft-ball throwing contest, tow-sack race, and hundred yard dash.

FOLK TRIPS

For the last four years folk teams from Pleasant Hill Academy under the direction of Victor Obenhaus, Principal, have been making tours of the northern states, giving programs at churches and schools.

This year we have been represented in seven states by four different teams, giving programs in forty cities and towns. The first team in above picture was in Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana. The second team, lower picture, went to Ohio. Another team gave programs in Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio. The last trip was to Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

The total personnel of folk teams from the four trips is as follows: Dr. Obenhaus, director; Miss Morton and Miss Champney, pianists; Peter Ayer, Pauline Banker, Foster Burgess, Benson Collett, Lemma Cox, Ann Cunningham, Mai Howell, Tommy Love, Cordia Mai McCormick, Betty Miller, Lester Montandon, Elsie Jo Patton, Melvin Poe, J. E. Rackley, Billy Robbins, Jane Sapp, Jean Suiter, Mary Esther Tally, Lillian Walker, Belvia Wightman, Robert Van Winkle.

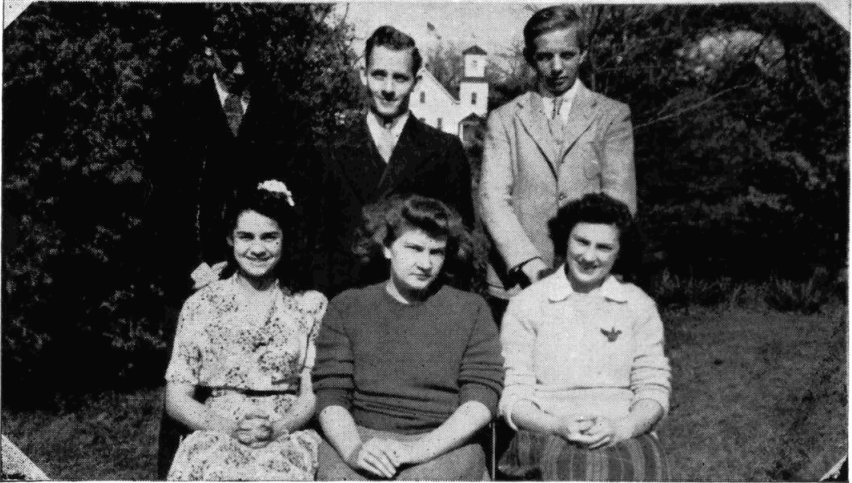

DRAMATICS

Our Drama club has been very successful this year. Under the able leadership of Miss Walker, we did plays, make-up, and stage-settings.

At Thanksgiving "The Florist Shop" was the outstanding play of the year by the club.

Other presentations of drama were "Two Crooks and a Lady", "The Poor House", and "My Dream".

The most dramatic characters in the Bible have been presented in costumes on such programs as "The March of Time" and Christmas Pageant.

COOPERATIVE

Our little Coop store has a real educational background and development. In the Freshman general course, Mr. Parsons directed our study in the story of cooperatives.

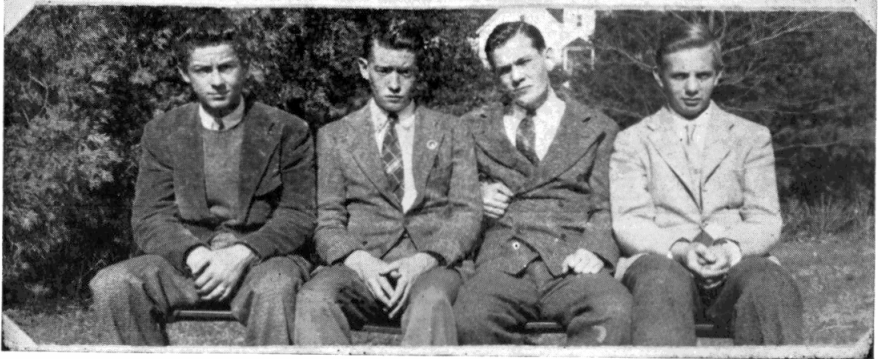

Our information about the workings of cooperatives found expression when, toward the end of last summer, 1943, Mr. Parsons urged the idea that the old 'book store' be converted into a 'cooperative'.

The first slate of officers were as follows: Nora Pickett, President; Patsy Blaire, Vice-President; Lillian Walker, Manager; Jane Sapp, Secretary; Foster Burgess, Auditor; Mr. Heineman, Sponsor.

Changes and additions to the list of officers at present include: Lester Montandon, Vice-President; Jane Sapp, Assistant-Manager; Freida Hull, Educational Director; Benson Collett, Secretary.

CONNIE OBENHAUS ENJOYS HER VISIT WITH DR. THURMAN
REECE SMITH GIVES PETER AYER CUT RATES

CHURCH CABINET

The Cabinet is a group of nine members elected by the student body. We plan or help to plan, the religious programs which are given throughout the year. Each student has the opportunity of taking part in a Sunday morning or night service in our Pioneer Church during the year.

Some business meetings have been held with the student body concerning the disbursement of offerings. A vote was taken to give the offerings received in the Pioneer Church to the Congregational Christian Committee for War Victims and Services. Mite boxes were put on the tables in the dining room giving the students and staff a chance to help this cause more as they felt like it.

When the weather permits in the spring and fall we hike to the river or to a pasture on the farm. Supper is served by the kitchen force and then we have a worship service conducted by a group of students.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purpose of the student government is to let faculty know the desires of the students, to teach students to govern themselves, and to have a more democratic school.

We plan, through our social life committee, the social life of the school: select our movies, plan for Saturday night, and Sunday afternoon entertainment, arrange for the various athletic tournaments and Field Day.

The Council of the student government deals with all matters referred to it by either faculty or students. Most of the social regulations of the school come from the Council.

DORM COUNCIL

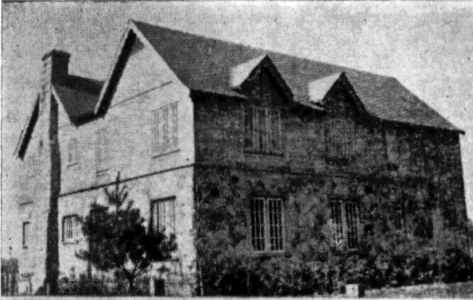

The Dorm Council of 1943-44 has been trying to keep a good spirit in the dormitory. They hope such a spirit will make each fellow feel like he has a part to perform and also to feel like it is the same as home. The meetings of the Dorm Council have been very irregular, but a meeting has been called as needed.

A fire squad has been organized by the Dorm Council.

They made arrangements for Robert's Hall Openhouse on February 26. This entertainment consisted of visiting of rooms, dancing, refreshments and a movie.
